During those days as a school coordinator, we have had the extra responsibility of combining final products and project growing. A challenge that was shared by all project partners, before, during and after the meeting. That's why we were involved doing some workshops and they also were indicators of achievement of our main goals in our project.

The details of this visit are the following ones:

As usual the mobility started with opening ceremony, with a welcome speech by the headmaster and some songs by the school choir. A guided tour with the student-guides at school was followed. Then the students attended the lessons together with their hosts. At the same time the project partners had 20 min presentation of each school on competences, discussion and reflection on the activities. All the partners had prepared thoroughly and the presentations offered high interest and were educative.

After lunch the students had some warm-up activities and preparation for the workshop next day. The preparation was connected with story writing. The students chose different words and formed the mind-maps with them. They worked in mixed groups.

their national traditions and still follow some of them.

In the third day the teachers had a project coordination forum. Discussion and reflection on the project activities.

The students had a workshop on story writing. They worked in mixed groups. At first they chose the style and formed the plot of the story. When the story was ready they made a video and presented their story with a short summary. The students were very motivated and the activity was very emotional. During this activity evidently their friendship grew even more.

In the fourth day all the partners went to Tallinn, the capital city of Estonia to get acquainted with the old town and its history and sights.

The fifth day started with the students' visit to Pärnumaa Vocational Education Center.

At the same time the teachers had the coordinators' meeting about the next mobility in Turkey. The minute has been written and signed by all the participants.

All the groups visited the local history museum in Seljametsa and had a workshop there.

In the evening there was a farewell party at school. All the partners served their traditional sweets, sang their popular songs and danced a lot.

All the guest students lived in the families and had a good care by their hosts. The students got on well. In the evenings the families arranged campfires and barbecue parties for the students
